

Summer Graduate Mini-Workshop: History of Science, Technology and Medicine in China (online), 17-24 August, 2020

Rationale:

As current situation does not allow for summer travel and limits the scope of summer research and conference/workshop participation, along with scarce options of meeting researchers and enhancing education, graduate students in particular are potentially facing serious consequences for the long run. Therefore, the chance of having a top-of-the-line workshop, with an opportunity to e-meet (not as part of a huge virtual crowd) some of the leading scholars in various fields (for our purposes – history of science, technology, and medicine in China), can be of great benefit.

Organizers:

Tel Aviv University (Department of East Asian Studies):

Prof. Asaf Goldschmidt & Dr. Ori Sela

In collaboration with:

Max Planck Institute for the History of Science:

Prof. Dagmar Schafer

Columbia University: Prof. Eugenia Lean

Princeton University: Prof. Janet Chen & Prof. He Bian

Schedule:

- August 17, 2020 Marta Hanson, (Johns Hopkins): Methodological Talk – “How to Write with Power and How to Write a Successful Grant Proposal.”
- August 18, 2020 Daniel Asen (Rutgers) “Crime, Security, and Citizenship: The Politics of Fingerprinting in China, 1920s-1940s.”
- August 19, 2020 Fa-ti Fan (SUNY Binghamton) “Meteorology in Modern East Asia.”
- August 20, 2020 Hu Danian (CUNY) “Studying Physics in the US: American Educated Chinese Physicists in Early 20th Century.”
- August 24, 2020 Marta Hanson, (Johns Hopkins): “Writing Grant Proposals.”

Participating Graduate students and Postdocs from:

Tel Aviv University; Johns Hopkins University; Princeton University; Columbia University; Max Planck Institute for the History of Science, Berlin; Rutgers University; University of Wisconsin, Madison; Freie Universität, Berlin; History of Natural Sciences, Chinese Academy of Sciences; Yuelu Academy at Hunan University.

