

Nations, 'races', genes, and genomes in the 20th and 21st centuries

Tel Aviv University, Gilman Building, fourth floor, room 496

Day 1 - Sunday, October 30

9:15–10:00 Gadi Algazi, Minerva Institute for German History: Opening Words
Luc Berlivet & Snait Gissis: Themes and Aims of the Workshop

The Middle East (2 sessions)

10:00–11:30 Elise Burton: National Races versus Genetic Diversity in Iran and Turkey
Liat Kozma: The Emergence of the Medical Profession in the Late Ottoman Middle East

11:30–11:45 Coffee break

11.45–13:30 Brief presentations: Israel
Dafna Hirsch: Race and Racialization in Early Zionism
Ari Barel: State and hospital as laboratories: biomedical research at Tel Hashomer Hospital in Israel

Discussion: The Uses of Genetics in the Middle East and their social and Medical Contexts

13:30–14:30 Lunch

Asia (3 sessions)

14:30–16:00 Ricardo Roque: Portuguese Colonial Sero-Anthropology meets Modern Genetics: Traces, Fragments, Clues

Yulia Egorova: Genetic Research and the Construction of Indian Minorities

16:00–17:30 Jaehwan Hyun: Entangled Genetic Histories and the Bionation Building of Japan and South Korea

Hallam Stevens: From HapMap to Yanhuang: race and genomics at BGI

17:30–17:45 Coffee break

17.45–19:30 Brief presentation:

Tsipy Ivry: Structural Ethical Ambivalence: The Geneticization of Japanese Prenatal Care

Discussion: Genetics/genomics – their Colonial, Post-Colonial, Racial and National(ist) Uses in Asia

Dinner

Day 2 - Monday, October 31

Latin America (2 sessions)

9:00–11:15 Robert Wegner: A History of Eugenics in Latin America and Recent Genomics Research in Brazil

Ernesto Schwartz-Marin: Macondo & the Country of Regions: A Genetic Polyphony of Colombian Racialized Imaginaries

Carlos Lopez Beltran: Mestizo Dialectics: Distant/proximate Imaginaries in Mexican Genomics

11:15–11:30 Coffee Break

11:30–13:15 Brief presentation: The Andes

Yael Mabat: Between Spirit and Body: Religious and Biomedical Encounters in the Andes

Discussion: National/Racial Uses of Genetics and Genomics in Latin America

13:15–14:15 Lunch

European Cases

14:15–15:45 Claude Olivier Doron: 'Who is the Most European of Us All'? Occidentalism, White Supremacy, and the Counter-Knowledge on Race and Genetics

Veronika Lipphardt: Europe's Roma People

15:45–16:00 Coffee break

16:00–18:15 Tino Plümecke: Extended DNA-Analysis in Germany and Switzerland and their Entanglements with Racializations and Racism

Luc Berlivet: On Gauls and Franks: Brief Comments on Human Genetics in France

Discussion: The European cases in light of the other regions

Dinner

DAY 3 - Tuesday, November 1

9:30–11:45 Concluding Session

Open Questions, Theory, Methodologies

Summing up